Title:

Race Management

Subtitle:

Introducing U races in Heats

A submission from:

The French Sailing Federation (FRA)

Purpose or Objective

- Having more balance racing between overpower and underpower racing
- Giving more tactical and technical game in light wind racing
- Preserve the future development of the Class by giving more athlete body type to be performant at international level

Proposal

U races should be introduced in heat races from 9 knots

Current Position

None

Reason

After 3 years of racing we have now a feedback of the overall needs to perform at international level.

Racing in heats gives a lot of pressure on starts as the races are really short and gives poor possibilities to overtake opponents. By introducing the U Race format, there will be more racing time, and more possibilities to change rankings during the races

This will as well ensure quality racing in light wind, and balance underpower and underpower racing to achieve the goal of a wider panel of body weight to perform at international level.
